States get keys to open up barring containment spots

It has, however, given states the freedom to decide on public movement saying "if a state or UT, based on reasons of public health and its assessment of the situation, proposes to regulate movement of persons, it will give wide publicity in advance regarding the restrictions to be placed on such movement, and the related procedures to be followed."

It has also advised the elderly, pregnant women, and children to stay home even as it has suggested people increasingly use the Aarogya Setu App.

Realty players getting the penthouse lows

Knight Frank India chairman & MD Shishir Bajjal said, "India's key markets will also be facing uncertainty, mostly due to a significant erosion of confidence amongst buyers across spectrum."

However, this also presents with a ray of hope for serious buyers with adequate liquidity to enter the real estate segment in India where, as values would be attractive."

Knight Frank's forecast for 20 cities globally projects only Lisbon, Monaco, Vienna and Shanghai markets to see price growth throughout the remainder of 2020.

It explained that unsold inventory pressure, coupled with tough economic environment, reflected in a six-year low GDP growth rate in Q3 FY20, and had strained prime residential market across key cities. The Covid-19 pandemic, which started to reflect on market activities from mid-March this year, has further aggravated the concerns of this segment.

A majority of analysts expect that sales in prime residential space are likely to start recovery from July-September and October-December 2020 onwards and full recovery could take more than 12 months.

Yes Bank acquires 24% stake in Dish TV

"The bank has received a letter dated May 28, 2020 (received on May 29, 2020) from Madhu Ashok Kapur, Shaqun Kapur Gogia, Gaurav Ashok Kapur and Mags Finvest Private Limited (collectively referred to as Madhu Kapur Group), consenting to reclassify their shareholding in the Bank as 'non-promoter shareholders'" Yes Bank said in a regulatory filing.

As on March 31, 2020, Madhu Kapur held 1.12% in Yes Bank. Yes Bank was founded by Rana Kapoor along with Madhu Kapur's late husband Ashok Kapur in 2004.

Social security for migrants on cards

"While staying at her native place, she is entitled to the benefits given to her non-undertaking schemes and welfare benefits now, but if she migrates she does not get those benefits. Can't we register such set of workers? Can't they be given a portable identification card with a unique workers' identification number so that portability of the social security and welfare schemes become easier?" a senior member of the committee asked.

The government has already started working on its one-nation-one-ration card mission, but spreading it out to across the length and breadth of the country would take some time. Had the scheme been put in place throughout the country, the reverse movement of crores of migrant labourers now underway would have been curbed, he said.

Currently, social security schemes under ESIC and EPFO for organised sector workers are portable. ESIC subscribers are eligible to avail benefits at any part of the country, while EPFO is providing its subscribers with a portable universal account (UAN) number that remains the same throughout even if one switches jobs.

Under the labour code on social security, the labour ministry had earlier proposed to universalise social security for all sets of workers, but the Bill it introduced in Lok Sabha in December last year proposed to form a National Social Security Board that would recommend the Centre suitable schemes for the different sector of unorganised sector workers. The Bill also proposes to empower the Centre to constitute a social security fund for provision of social security for the unorganised workers, platform workers or gig workers or any such class of workers.

The data on migration by last residence in India as per Census 2001 shows that the total number of migrants has been 314 million. Of these migrants, 268 million (85%) have been those who migrated from one area of the state to another area within the state. Some 41 million (13%) were inter-state migrants. The rest migrated outside of the country.

The parliamentary standing committee on labour, chaired by headed by BJD MP Bhartuarhi Mahtab, while studying the labour code on operational safety, health and working conditions, had rejected labour ministry's proposal of arrogating to itself the power to fix the wage floor for inter-state migrant workers in the name of uniformity across the country.

If any state government wants to set minimum wages higher than prescribed by the Centre for inter-state migrant workers, it should be free to do so, it had said.

Skymet: Monsoon has hit Kerala

The onset of monsoon over Kerala marks the commencement of four-month rainy season in the country. The country receives 75% of the rainfall from June to September.

Skymet had predicted that monsoon will hit Kerala on May 28 with an error margin of plus or minus two days. The India Meteorological Department (IMD) had said the monsoon will make an onset over Kerala on June 5, four days after its normal onset date.

However, earlier this week, it said a cyclonic circulation in the Bay of Bengal will help in advancement of the monsoon and it could reach Kerala on June 1, its normal onset date.

IMD director general Mr. Ramesh Chandra Mohapatra said conditions are still not right to declare onset of monsoon over Kerala. According to the IMD, there are three major conditions to declare the onset of monsoon. The first is if, after May 10, 60 per cent of the 14 weather stations -- Minicoy, Amini, Thiruvananthapuram, Punalur, Kollam, Allappuzha, Kottayam, Kochi, Thirissur, Kozhikode, Thalassery, Kannur, Kudalur and Mangaloor -- report rainfall of 2.5 millimetres or more for two consecutive days, the onset over Kerala will be declared on the second day.

The second is the depth of westerlies should be maintained up to 600 hectopascals (hPa) and the third is the out-wave longwave radiation should be below 200 watt per square metre (wm-2).

BSNL to refloat revised 4G tender

The 4G tender has been marred in controversy ever since it came out in March. The Telecom Equipment and Services Export Promotion Council (TEPC) had complained against BSNL for not following the rules after which the tender was put on hold by the government. The main concern raised by TEPC was that conditions were formed in such a manner that no Indian company could participate. One such condition was that the bidder should have a minimum turnover of ₹8,000 crore each in the last two years (2017-18 and 2018-19) in case of financial year and 2017 and 2018 in case of calendar year.

Sources now said all such conditions will not be there in the new tender as eligibility criteria will be finalised after feedback from local players. As per sources, in the past couple of weeks, the DoT has also met several local players in order to get details about their manufacturing capacity and if they are in a position to provide the equipment to BSNL if required. Meanwhile, the domestic vendors are also contemplating to build more pressure on the government by convincing it that there is a difference between local designed and developed products than simply made in India. Players like Nokia and Ericsson are manufacturing telecom products in India, thereby making them eligible to participate in majority of the government tenders which call for make in India norms. But even Nokia and Ericsson may be left out of any tender if they fail to meet the local content addition in the manufacturing. Currently, these companies are making products in India with addition of around 40% local content, but government norms call for 40-65% depending on the products. The Indian players have an advantage in terms of local content as most of the components are sources locally. The major local players in the telecom space are VNL, Tejas Networks, Coral Telecom, Paramount Cables, Tirumala, etc.

US is 'very saddened' by what happened to relationship with China, says Trump

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA Washington, May 30

PRESIDENT DONALD TRUMP has said the US is "very saddened" by what happened to its relationship with China, hours after he announced a series of decisions against it and blamed the Chinese government's "malfeasance" for the death and devastation caused by the COVID-19 pandemic worldwide.

Amid escalating bilateral tensions over the coronavirus pandemic, trade issues and Beijing's new controversial security law in Hong Kong, Trump announced a series of decisions, including issuing a proclamation to deny the entry to certain Chinese nationals and tightening of regulations against Chinese investments in America. Trump also terminated the US' relationship with the World Health Organisation, accusing the UN's health body of misguiding the world on the coronavirus and siding with China on this issue.

"We're talking about doing a lot of things and we're very, very saddened by what happened to our relationship with China. They should have never allowed this to happen. They could have stopped it at the source. We asked them to come in and help them, and they didn't want help from anybody, even the World Health Organization," he told reporters at the White House on Friday, referring to the spread of the virus that has killed over one lakh people in America alone. Trump said China contained the virus within its own territory but did not stop it from spreading around the world.

Elections for five non-permanent members of UNSC next month; India assured of seat

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA United Nations, May 30

THE UN GENERAL Assembly has decided to hold elections for the five non-permanent members of the Security Council next month under the new voting arrangements due to the COVID-19 restrictions, with India assured a win being the sole contender for the Asia Pacific seat.

The 193-member General Assembly adopted the decision on Friday titled 'Procedure for holding elections by secret ballot without a plenary meeting during the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) pandemic'.

According to the decision, the elections of non-permanent members to the Security Council and the election of members to the Economic and Social Council will be held simultaneously in June without a plenary meeting. Election for the five non-permanent members of the 15-nation council for the 2021-22 term was originally scheduled on June 17. India is a candidate for a non-permanent seat and its victory is assured as it is the sole candidate vying for the lone seat from the Asia Pacific grouping. New Delhi's candidature was unanimously endorsed in June last year by the 55 members of the Asia-Pacific grouping, including China and Pakistan. From India's perspective, any change in the voting method will not impact its chances. The term is to start in January 2021. Traditionally, the UNSC elections are held in the General Assembly hall with each of the 193 member states casting its vote in a secret ballot. Now, large in-person meetings at the world body's headquarter stand postponed till the end of June due to the Covid-19 pandemic.

Under the new voting arrangement, president of the General Assembly Tijjani Muhammad-Bande will circulate a letter to all member states at least 10 working days prior to the first round of the secret balloting, informing them of the date on which the elections will be held, the number of vacant seats, the venue where ballots may be cast and other logistical details. On the day of the elections, the voter will be required to visit the designated venue during a specific time slot to cast its ballots. Only ballots cast in the ballot boxes at the designated venues will be accepted and no ballots would be accepted after the last time slot has expired. If the total number of ballot papers cast in all the ballot boxes do not amount to at least a majority of the members of the Assembly, the president would circulate a letter to all member states indicating a new date and time for the elections.

The General Assembly president will circulate a letter to all member states informing them of the results once the voting is complete and the ballots counted. Canada, Ireland and Norway are vying for two seats in western Europe and other countries category. Mexico is the only candidate for the one Latin America and Caribbean seat and Kenya and Djibouti will contest the seat available for the African group. Previously, India has been elected as a non-permanent member for 1950-1951, 1967-1968, 1972-1973, 1977-1978, 1984-1985, 1991-1992 and 2011-2012.
